Professor Hughes teaches intellectual property (IP) and international trade at Cardozo School of Law in New York. Formerly a policy expert in the U.S. Department of Commerce (USPTO), his areas of expertise include domestic and international copyright, trade and IP issues at WTO, database protection, trademarks, geographical indications, and intellectual property in developing countries.

Educated at Oberlin and Harvard, Professor Hughes practiced international arbitration in Paris and, as a Henry Luce Scholar, clerked for the Lord President of the Supreme Court of Malaysia. He has been a visiting professor at UCLA and DePaul.

In this spare time, Professor Hughes has worked often in election monitoring and democracy development. He also serves as Chairman of the Thomson Foundation for Film and Television Heritage, based in Paris.
